

St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church Presents:
SUMMER LECTURE SERIES

MONDAYS & THURSDAYS in July
at 7:00pm in Rosary Hall.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 2009

Happiness? What is happiness? Can I be Happy? Br. Justin Brophy, OP, will explain how happiness is the goal towards which all human beings strive and how that affects the way we ought to live our lives and our relationship with God.

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 2009

FREEDOM! Free will has a purpose. It was given by God in order that we might make our way out of 'slavery in Egypt' to the 'Promised Land' of worship into his presence. Rev. Br. James Brent, OP, will present this talk about how to find real freedom.

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 2009

Finding Christ In the Gospel of John tells us: "He who believes in me ... out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water." Learn the meaning of these words from Rev. Br. James Brent, OP, and discover what it means to find Christ.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 2009

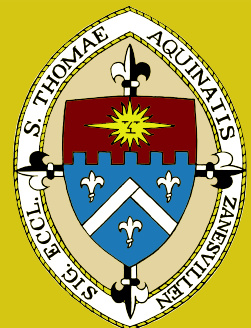

Why did they do that? The U.S. Bishops are completing a new translation of the Mass into English, which will likely be completed by next year. This will be a significant change in the words we hear at every Mass. Br. Justin Brophy, OP, will explain why these changes are being made and will also highlight the major differences between the current translation and the new translation that will be replacing it.

EVERY MONDAY IN JULY

The Bible Fr. Anthony Giambrone, OP, will present a series of talks on the place of Scriptures in the Church. His lecture will include the proper interpretation of Scripture, the origins of some of the books of Scripture, and how we understand the inspired text in the context of God's revelation of Himself. Fr. Anthony is in Zanesville for the summer as he prepares for further studies in Scripture in Jerusalem this fall.
